Fighting Crowd Storms Trial of Rector

LONDON, England — Scores of curious women were trampled on and injured in a free fight which took place outside the Westminster Hall here, where the Rev. Harold Francis Davidson is being tried on charges of immorality by the Norwich Consistory Court.

Public interest in the case has reached hysterical proportions, and a crowd numbering thousands had gathered outside the Hall hours before the hour of opening. Nearly a hundred people, mostly women, had waited through the night in hopes of gaining entrance, but these were swept away by a mob which later stormed the court and resisted every effort of the special police squad drafted to keep order.

Ambulance men treated a number of injured, and it was over an hour before the road could be cleared.

Enterprising motor-coach proprietors are successfully exploiting the case by running excursions to the Rev. Davidson's home at Stiffkey, Norfolk, where local cafes and public houses are reaping a harvest from the curious.

In court a sensation was caused, says a London cable, when the Rev. Davidson executed a "tap dance" on the witness stand in order, he said, to demonstrate how one of his young lady friends once acted in his presence.

She was described as Mrs. Betty Beach, a dancer.

The rector was questioned about testimony given by a prosecuting witness charging that Mrs. Beach had executed "acrobatic exercises and dances in her nightgown" for the benefit of the Rev. Davidson.

N. Y. Stock Market

NEW YORK — Stock market levels touched new lows here, during a steady decline.

Toward mid-afternoon there was a rally, and the close was higher.

The following are the closing prices of the most active stocks of the day:

U. S. Convicts Brew Beer In Cells

JOLIET, Illinois — Bootlegging has been discovered on a considerable scale behind the grim walls of the state penitentiary here.

When the guards rushed to the spot where an explosion was heard they discovered the ruined prison liquor factory. Two convict operators had been injured in the explosion of the still.

Authorities were of the opinion that the business had been going on for some time, though no cases of drunkenness among the prisoners had been noted.

New U. S. Taxes Voted

WASHINGTON — Spurred by a frank desire to find revenue with which to balance the budget, the Senate today added a list of excise taxes to the billion dollar revenue bill.

These are manufacturers' excise taxes, and range from two percent to ten percent on candy, chewing gum, sporting goods, yachts, soft drinks, jewelry, and matches.

Treasury experts estimate that the taxes will bring in approximately $60,000,000.

Bomb Home of U. S. Democrat

DAYTON, Ohio — Mysterious enemies have bombed the home of Democratic Leader Albert H. Horstman, while he and his family were sleeping.

Though no one was hurt in the outrage, police are carrying forward a vigorous search for the criminals.

It is believed here not to be the work of political rivals, but a demonstration of underworld vengeance. Horstman was known for his activities against the gang leaders.

London Excited as Rumor Spreads

LONDON. — Business circles here were thrown into confusion, and a minor panic arose on the London Stock Exchange, after repeated rumors that Great Britain is considering an immediate return to the Gold Standard.

The rumor was started by the sudden move of the Bank of England in purchasing large quantities of gold. Within the last week the Bank of England is understood to have bought over eight million pounds sterling of gold from the United States, and the immediate effect of this has been the rise of sterling and the depreciation of dollars on foreign exchange markets.

Adherents to the present policy issued the most emphatic warnings to the Government in the Commons following the spreading of the rumor.

Every enquiry at authoritative centers has met with a strong denial of the rumor, and an official explanation was later issued to the effect that these large and unexpected bullion purchases are for the purpose of the Chancellor's of the Exchequer equalisation fund of £150,000,000, the object of which is the control of foreign currency exchanges and to prevent undue fluctuations of sterling which might disturb trade.

Financial circles, while recognizing that the departure from the Gold Standard has failed to have many of its predicted and hoped-for beneficial results, are most emphatic in their belief that neither the Bank nor the Government will be ready to depart from it at present.

Even advocates of the return to the Gold Standard state that Britain should not return to the parity upon which sterling stood last September, but pin their faith in the adoption of a new parity.

The question of the return to the Gold Standard will be of particular interest to English people abroad, as it is possible that the pound would at once jump to a value in Spain of over sixty pesetas.

10,000 Pack Cathedral for Corpus Christi

Huge Procession Marches inside Great Church

Packing the huge cathedral to its portals, 10,000 people came to worship at the fiesta of Corpus Christi night before last.

A procession, said to contain 2,000 men, marched solemnly around through the aisles of the old church in one of the most brilliant functions in its 700 years of worship.

In accordance with the custom of the occasion, no women were allowed to enter the procession.

Each marcher, whether pauper in dungarees or grandee in evening dress, carried a candle. Among them were various organisations, such as the Círculo Obreros Católicos, who marched in a body.

The various orders of monks from the monasteries of Mallorca were represented.

The whole procession was made brilliant by the presence of the priests in their vari-colored robes, and the Archbishop of Palma carrying the Host under a cloth of gold canopy carried by six men.

While these marching worshippers wound their way slowly around the church, the organ played continued.

After two circuits of the Cathedral the services at the altar took place, and the Scola Cantorum sang.

The church was brilliantly lighted during the services with candles in every niche. The huge crown hanging over the altar created a most startling effect.

Services lasted more than two hours.

Lindbergh Hoaxer Goes on Trial

FLEMINGTON, New Jersey — The trial of Hughes Curtis, whose gigantic hoaxes in the Lindbergh kidnapping case amazed and angered the world, has opened here.

With Col. Lindbergh refusing to prosecute his former "ally" it was for some time doubtful whether any legal action would be taken against Curtis, but now the entire nation is solid in its approval for the thorough investigation of Curtis' extraordinary campaign of wholesale lying and deception.

Booing crowds milled round the courthouse while within the Hunteerton grand jury was being presented with the evidence and testimony with which Prosecutor Halck hopes to jail Curtis.

Spanish Quit N. Y. Run

Compañía Trasatlántica will send no more boats to and from New York.

This was learned definitely yesterday by the PALMA POST, and follows a long series of financial difficulties which have affected the line through its unwillingness to raise the fare after the drop of the peseta.

It is stated that the reason no more boats are to be put on the run to New York is because the Spanish government has discontinued the subsidy which made a continuation of the service possible.

Among the many objectors to the discontinuation is Sr. Marcial Rossell, editor of the New York magazine Spain.

He points out that it ought to be a matter of pride with Spain that the line be continued, and he also states, that the discontinuance of the service will do great harm to touring, there being no other Spanish service available.

The American Export Line has been in operation to and from Spain for some time, and it has been expected to operate to and from Palma, Spain's main tourist center, in the fall.

Ship-Shore Plane Missing

NEW YORK — No trace has yet been found of the seaplane Europa, which was catapulted from the deck of the Norddeucher Lloyd liner Europa on its way to port here, and which sent a brief SOS two hours after its departure from the ship.

Captain William Dreschel, marine superintendent of the line, has been actively in charge of searching for the missing plane.

Under his direction the U. S. coast-guard has been carrying on intensive scouting for the lost plane.

Lieutenant Joachim Blankenburg is the pilot of the plane, which makes this ship to shore flight on every passage of the German vessel.

The sos call is believed to have come from a point somewhere east of Nantucket.

Stimson-M'Donald Talk Secretly

LONDON. — Mystery surrounds the secret trans-Atlantic conversation which, it is now revealed here, took place on Thursday between Ramsay MacDonald, British premier, and American Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson.

Secrecy surrounded the call, and the premier refused to make a statement to interviewers.

The London Times however suggests that the conversation made no mention of reparations and interallied debts, as was believed by those supposedly in the know.

Well-informed political circles believe that the theme of the talk was that of Anglo-American trading relations and was of considerable importance.

Depression Hits Olympic Games

NEW YORK — With telling effect, depression has hit amateur athletics and may seriously effect the outcome of the Olympic Games scheduled for this year, according to the announcement of Avery Brundage, President of the Amateur Athletic Union.

He has just notified 20 committees now assembling athletes for the coming games, that the teams would have to be reduced through lack of funds.

Though this year's games are to be played in Los Angeles, and will therefore be cheaper than in former years when contestants had to be sent abroad, it is feared that the new financial restrictions will prevent the assembling of complete teams and may seriously jeopardize America's chances of victory.

Capone Appeals to Supreme Court

WASHINGTON — Clutching at the last straw which might save him, Al Capone, famous Chicago gangster, filed a petition with the Supreme Court of the United States here, for reconsideration of his appeal on charges violating the income tax laws.

The gangster just lost an appeal to escape the eleven-year sentence imposed upon him by Federal Judge Wilkinson in Chicago.

von Morgan Dies in Smashup

BERLIN. — Herr Joachim von Morgan, famous German racing motorist, and German hope for the International Race to be held next Sunday, was killed instantly when the car which he was driving on the Nuerberg racetrack on the Eifel hills near Cologne crashed fatally.

While travelling at over 100 m. p. h., the car skidded, ran backwards for 200 yards, somersaulted four times and burst into flames.

Spectators and mechanics ran to extract Herr Morgan from the inferno of flames but were beaten back by the heat.

Supporters of the German team have been thrown into despair by the accident.

ENG. DEBT MOVE SHOCKS WORLD

Actions Follow in France & Italy

Sensation has been caused in European capitals by Great Britain's decision to repay the United States war debt installments suspended under the Hoover moratorium without obtaining similar promises from her own debtors.

The main opposition comes from France where the move is regarded with characteristic suspicion.

Italy has taken advantage of the opportunity to embarrass France with an immediate acceptance of the proposals.

PARIS — Strong opposition to any Franco-American accord on war debts, such as that reached between Britain and the United States, was voiced by the new groups of the next Chamber of Deputies.

These deputies charged the arrangement for Great Britain to repay her suspended debt installments to the United States over a period of ten years at four percent interest as a manoeuvre to isolate France at the forthcoming Lausanne Reparations Conference.

Observers in close contact with French political circles see evidence in this attitude that the new chamber would be unwilling to make any more concessions than the last.

It had been thought from the claims of Herriot and Blum that the new government of France would be prepared to drop the intransigent attitude on debts which has secured such unpopularity for the country.

ROME — Italian political circles have expressed extraordinarily prompt approval of the move and strong condemnation of France's opposition.

Within an hour or two of the news being received Nobile Giacomo de Martino, Italian ambassador to Washington, was instructed to accept officially President Hoover's proposal for the terms, which include the repayment in ten years of the debt installments postponed by the moratorium ending June 30.

Leeds Rocked By Quake

LEEDS, England — Amid a rain of falling tiles and chimney pots panic-stricken inhabitants rushed into the streets in their night clothes as an earthquake shock rocked the city during the night.

The tremors, which lasted over an hour, fractured water pipes and flooded streets and houses to a depth of several feet, and the full force of the city's fire brigade worked feverishly quelling outbreaks of fire from fused electric lighting.

Shelter and hot drinks were provided in police stations and hotels for "refugees" scared of returning to their homes, and police watches guarded houses showing signs of collapse.

Hospitals were crowded with cases of minor injuries.

The shock was felt in lesser degree throughout the whole of Yorkshire and Derbyshire, where telephone lines and water mains were partially dislocated.

Several previous earthquakes have troubled this neighbourhood, which is said to be geologically a "weak spot".

HELSENGFORS, Finland — Drunkenness was seen as a thing of the past in this country with the ending of prohibition here.

Police have announced that already in the six weeks since the abolition of the law arrests for drunkenness have decreased 50 percent.

While the dry law obtained, drinking and the selling of liquor were so widespread as to be quite out of control by the authorities, it is claimed.

'Bonus Army' Entrains

WASHINGTON, Indiana — Troops of the ragged "Bonus Army" have entrained here for Chicago, giving up their original intention of marching all the way across country to Washington where they are going to urge passage of the Bonus Bill.

The army, which consists of down-and-out world war veterans, has enrolled new members as it marches along until it now had some 400.

Public notice of the army, at first limited to the careful locking of doors by housewives as the army passed, has grown to immense proportions with the press of the land watching every movement of the boys under the bonus flag.
