Theater Guild Meets, Plans a Change

Plans for a new constitution and the presentation of another play were laid when the Palma Theater Guild held a general meeting on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Livingston Allis, Villa Enriqueta, Terreno.

The Guild committee will formulate the new constitution during the week and present the draft for consideration at the next general meeting to be held on Monday evening, May 30, at the Tourist Information Bureau, 5 Plaza Gomila, Terreno.

During Sunday's meeting Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Brooks of Génova were elected to the Guild committee. Mrs. Alice Robbins and Mrs. Wyatt Randall of Son Alegre were accepted as new members of the Guild.

It was agreed during the business session that a new play should be produced, but none has been chosen yet. At the next meeting some more definite announcement of future productions is expected to be made.

Motions were made and heartily accepted to thank the English press in Palma for its generous cooperation in publicising the first play of the Guild, and also to thank the members, committee, and the company for the donation of their indispensable services.

The sound financial position of the Guild was attested in the report of Mr. G. G. Del Val, secretary and treasurer. He stated that in spite of a new stage, and the many difficulties attendant on instituting a new project here, the Guild had cleared all expenses.

With the addition of the new directors, the Guild committee now is comprised of the following people:

Mr. Norman Jacobsen, President
Mr. C. L. Allis, Business Manager
Mr. G. G. Del Val, Secretary and Treasurer

Miss Sybil Sutton-Vane, Producer

Mrs. Ivan Lake

Mr. W. B. Brooks

Mrs. W. B. Brooks

Mr. David Loth

Doctor 'De-cries' Terreno Peacock

The peacock of D. Francisco Valdés of No. 1, Calle de la Salud in Terreno caused considerable comment among the extranjeros of the neighborhood and not a little sleeplessness.

Yesterday the doctor announced that all this had been corrected. With the surgical skill for which he is famed, no more public disturbance is possible.

Latest reports from the nest-side of the patient indicate that the operation was entirely successful. The bird may still strut with complete effectiveness, but may not otherwise call attention to himself.

World News Briefs

In NEW YORK, the smartly-dressed Mayor James J. Walker said he was quite prepared to come before Judge Samuel Seabury of the Hofstadter Committee investigating the city's graft. He said he would gladly face those who seek to remove him from office.

In CAIRO, was noted the increased tendency to world barter as a substitute for the free exchange of gold. The German government offered Egypt £300,000 in artificial fertilizers for the equivalent value in Egyptian cotton. On the other hand the Egyptian government is trading 10,000 bales of cotton to Hungary, in July, for bonds.

In LONDON, parliament reassembled for a session which is not expected to end until July 13, the date on which delegates will leave for Ottawa. Prime Minister MacDonald will not participate in the present session, since he will not come to London until a few days before the opening of the Lausanne Conference on June 16.

Asks Credits & Savings at Same Time

WASHINGTON. — In a new decree just published President Herbert Hoover was seen to take a stand not unlike that of Chancellor Bruening in Germany.

There are twelve points in the Hoover list of suggestions for the country.

At the top of the list is the request that expenses be immediately cut for the balancing of the U. S. budget.

He asked for an expansion of the credits of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, organization of public credits for the Federal Reserve System, immediate help for the farmer, the continuation of all construction work in the interest of the general public, the extension of the power of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the help of building.

Observers in this city saw in the move the shaping of the Hoover policy on which there is no doubt he intends to stand in the coming elections.

Critics of the administration were quick to point out that Herbert Hoover was intensifying the mistakes he has made before.

On the Island

At their home on the hills of Génova Mr. and Mrs. Jacobo Sureda entertained 75 guests at a dance last Saturday night. Among the crowd were many prominent Mallorcans, since Mr. Sureda is a member of an old Mallorcan family. There were also many members of the extranjero colony, among whom were Mr. Ivan Lake, British vice-consul Palma, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Brooks, Mrs. Catalina Muñoz Nell, Mrs. Hernández Nell, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jacobsen, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Marlyn Brown, Miss Impy Sima, Miss Nora Nisbet, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. del Val.

One of the features of the gay party which pleased Mallorcan and foreigner alike was the superb guitar recital given by Sr. Calatayud on the moonlit terrace, especially decorated to form a perfect setting for the occasion.

Looking on and enjoying the guitar playing were many of the inhabitants of the little town.

Mrs. Sureda is the former Eleanor Sackett of New York City. She is the daughter of the vice president of the Chase National Bank in New York.

The Suredas spend a month or two

World Leaders Sign pro-Soviet Manifesto

Einstein, Dreiser, Others Tell of War Threat

PARIS — Agitation to prevent the outbreak of a world war against Soviet Russia was the objective of a manifesto signed here by some of the world's most prominent people.

On the list of signers of the document, which is addressed to the world at large are the names of Professor Albert Einstein, Authors Henri Barbusse, Maxim Gorki, Romain Rolland, Theodore Dreiser, Paul Langevin, Heinrich Mann and Upton Sinclair. It is also signed by Madame Sun-Yat-Sen, widow of China's greatest leader in modern history.

The manifesto precedes the convocation of the International Congress against War on August first of this year.

In the forward to the document it is described as an appeal to "all men of good will irrespective of their membership in political parties or trade union organisations..."

It further states that the coming Congress and the impression it makes on public opinion will determine "whether the war which has already started in the east will be allowed to lead to a great war of intervention against the Soviet Union".

Unlike the declaration of last week by the Second International, which envisaged no other war of the future but that between Japan and Russia, the signers of the present manifesto are convinced they see the outlines of a world conflict with Russia and the orient on one side and all other powers on the other.

Due to the undoubted power and sincerity of the signers it is regarded in informed circle here as a political move of the first importance in world affairs.

Chicago Broker Hunted on Fraud

CHICAGO — Police of this city were engaged in a wide search for D. A. Dobry, accused by the States Attorney of operating a bucket shop on a large scale.

The summons was ordered after officers raided the Prudential Investment Co. of which Dobry was said to be president, and failed to find $50,000 worth of stocks and bonds deposited by clients for sale as collateral on loans.

The company's offices were deserted when the police arrived. A truckload of records was seized for investigation.

Flyers Hold Meet in Rome

ROME — Under the steady droning of a squadron of Fascist airplanes the conference of transatlantic aviators opened here with parades in the streets, and an enthusiastic populace welcoming the flyers of all the world.

All flyers who have either spanned the Atlantic or made a bona fide attempt to do so are available to the meet.

In his opening words of welcome to the assembled flyers of all nations Premier Benito Mussolini expressed the regret he felt for the accident of the conference in which the Austrian aviator Endresz was killed while landing to take part in the conference.

He also expressed the sorrow he felt for Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in the tragedy which has just befallen him, preventing his attending the conference.

See Greek Crash Danger Past

ATHENS — Cowed by a threat of court-martial Greek postal employes have returned to work, and the revolutionary crisis which threatened the country has been narrowly averted.

The abandonment of the gold standard and the resignation of Premier Venezelos have followed in close succession and thrown Greek political life into a turmoil.

In his speech before the chamber Premier Venezelos offered his resignation had a bit of sane advice to his country. He suggested that the constitution should be amended so that provision would be made for semi-dictatorial measures at times of crisis.

He pointed to the Weimar constitution of Germany, by virtue of whose article 48 Chancellor Bruning has been able to put forth and enforce his famous emergency decrees.

It is generally expected that the task of forming a new ministry will be intrusted either to Papanastasiu, leader of the Republican Union, or to General Condillis, leader of the National Republican party.

Ex-premier Venezelos has been the political leader of his country since early in the war.

Mrs. Belmont Still Fights for Life

LONDON — Mrs. August Belmont, stricken a week ago with paralysis, shows a slight improvement, according to the statement of her physicians.

Hope of recovery, however, it was stated, is impossible.

Mrs. Belmont has no pain and has passed a comfortable night, the bulletin stated. There is no immediate danger of her death.

Davis Victories for U. S. & Germans

Victories for the American team and for the Germans were reported yesterday in the dispatches covering the Davis cup matches.

In Paris the Americans Gregory Mangin and S. B. Wood beat the French combination of Berthet and Couiteas.

The German team beat the Austrians in Vienna, entitling them to meet Ireland in Berlin in the next competition.

Find Lindbergh Baby Clue

TRENTON, New Jersey. — Hope was held by the New Jersey authorities today that the solution of the kidnapping and slaying of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr. lay in the finding of a Maryland bootlegger who is believed to have valuable information relative to the identity of the criminals.

The daily bulletin issued by Col. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the New Jersey state police, was meagre, and it did not refer to the bootlegger for whom the authorities are known to be searching.

It is known that the prosecuting attorney here has been in touch with Arthur M. Mills, a former Maryland state trooper and an identification expert who was said to have talked to the bootlegger in question shortly after the baby was kidnapped.

A large part of ticket No. 30,817, which won 3,000 pesetas also, was distributed in Palma.

BRITAIN FETES AMELIA EARHART

Flyer Arrives in London, Met by Ambassador

WASHINGTON. — Amelia Earhart Putman, first woman to span the ocean in a solo flight will be invited to receive commendations from President Herbert Hoover and from other U. S. officials, Clarence M. Young, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, announced today.

LONDON. — Airtaxi from Londonderry, northern Ireland, brought Amelia Earhart Putman, first woman to fly the Atlantic by herself, to Hanworth Airdrome here.

Though she arrived in the midst of a violent thunderstorm, she was formally welcomed by Ambassador Andrew William Mellon.

From the field she broadcast a message to America, then drove with Ambassador Mellon to the embassy where she will spend the next few days while London prepares celebrations in her honor.

The plane in which the former Amelia Earhart flew the ocean is being packed up to be shipped back to The States.

It is not known exactly what time she made on her flight, but it is certain that the record time for Atlantic flights which has been held for thirteen years by British Airmen Sir John Alcock and Sir A. Whitten Brown, has been broken. Unofficially her time for the ocean crossing has been fixed at thirteen and one-half hours.

Not only is Amelia Earhart the first woman to cross the Atlantic in a solo flight, but hers is the longest straight-line flight ever made by a woman. It is also only the third time a solo flyer has crossed the ocean. The other two are Charles A. Lindbergh of America, and Bert Hinkler, the British small-plane flyer.

Among the many congratulatory telegrams she has received is one from Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald which said, "Earhart has shown great courage, resource, endurance and skill as navigator. We are very proud indeed of our distinguished guest".

Another telegram was received from General Italo Balbo of Italy, congratulating the flyer on her feat and also on her decision to come to the conference of transatlantic airmen now being feted in Rome.

Seattle-Tokio Hop Planned

SEATTLE. — Enervated by a long night's sleep, Nathan C. Browne, New York aviator planned to take off on his attempted non-stop flight to Tokio as soon as possible.

During the morning he made a test flight in his giant Fokker The Lone Star for a final checkup of the motor.

Browne had not yet received official permission from Tokio to land in Japan, but he stated he would undoubtedly take off in spite of its lack.

Questioned on what he thought of the difficulties former aviators have been involved in because of unheralded flights over Japan, the aviator stated he thought there would not be the slightest difficulties with the Government.

Mrs. Ivan Lake, wife of the British Vice-Consul here, will return at the end of this month from England, where she is enjoying a holiday.

Last Saturday was a night of parties for the extranjero. Beside the private dance at the Sureda home, there were many other functions going on in various centers of entertainment.

At the Bar Formentor the management was inaugurating its American Jazz band. A gay crowd was present to signify its welcome to the innovation.

At Victor's Saturday night's gala was in full swing with an eager crowd of young people who jammed the bar and dance lounge to overflowing.

There was another innovation Saturday night also. The Sociedad Bellver, which has a theater and club rooms in Terreno, held a special recital and dance that night in honor of the foreign colony.

Mr. Walker Hodap Evert of Puerto Pollensa was host to many of the Pollensa extranjeros the other night. Among the list of guests was Mr. W. Sterling Sutfin, Mr. Ed Johnson, Mrs. Johnson, who writes under her maiden name of Miss Dorothy J. Collins, and Miss Genevieve Taggart.

World News Briefs

In NEW YORK, died Bozeman Bulger, famed old-time baseball writer, of a heart attack from which he dropped dead in his home without warning. For him flags flew at half mast in the Yankee Stadium.

In NORFOLK, customs officials went aboard the docking U. S. steamer Shooter Island, found 70 bottles of good and reputable bootleg liquor, held Captain J. A. Bergman with his crew of 28 hard-drinking seamen. Confined to their ship under guard of the authorities, the malefactors communicated their troubles to the Delata Steamship Company, owners of the line.

In DUBLIN, Mr. Eamon De Valera commented crisply on the recent (Brighton) speech of Sir John Simon. "We", he said "are as much concerned as Mr. Thomas or any other British minister that friendly relations should be maintained between the people of Great Britain and the people of Ireland.."

Kreuger Crash to Cause 14 Others

STOCKHOLM — Bankruptcy for the famous Kreuger and Toll company means the liquidation of fourteen daughter companies, it was announced here as the petition was filed.

Four of the companies, which would thus be forced to the wall of necessity, are Swedish; the other ten are foreign.

Among these ten is the important International Finance Bank which has its head office in Danzig and branches in Switzerland and Lichtenstein.

Following the petition for bankruptcy it was stated that the German Ministry of Justice is already preparing proceedings against the directors of this concern and some of the others, alleging fraudulent dealings.

DO-X Passes Over Spain

MADRID. — DO-X, biggest plane in the world, rose gracefully from the harbor of Vigo and carried its complement of 40 passengers and crew toward Friedrichshafen whither they started not long ago from New York.

At Vigo a typical Spanish welcome was tendered all the 40 transatlantic voyagers aboard.

Thousands of people crowded the quayside when the great ship touched the water. The mayor and the entire town council were present in a body to form a welcoming committee. As a special feature the town orchestra was set up to play the national airs of all the nations involved.

Vigo, Spain. — With its great motors thundering, the giant DO-X, biggest plane in the world, arrived over this city at the end of its trip from America.

The huge ship circled the city for five minutes, then glided down to rest in the harbor.

All Vigo came to the harbor to see the great ship come in.

She arrived here from Horta in the Azores where she stopped to refuel. The complete flight from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, has been accomplished without a hitch.

It is the first time the 50-ton German flying boat has ever crossed the North Atlantic.

She plans to fly on from here to Lake Constance.
